Please describe the records you are requesting and provide as much specificity as possible, including applicable date ranges.

Pursuant to public records laws, The Washington Post requests all records in your office's possession related to the police shooting of Jesse Beshaw on or about 9/16/16.

This request may include, but is not limited to:

- complete incident reports, including witness statements
- reports listing name(s) and badge number(s) of the officers involved and their statements related to the shooting
- any non-exempt investigative files, including summaries and findings.
- any internal affairs and/or departmental review board findings, including any disciplinary records that may exist related to the shooting (e.g. commission/review board proceedings, recommendations and final actions)

To the extent any part of this request is denied due to a pending investigation, please provide documentation sufficient to demonstrate an open investigation. In addition, please provide any remaining non-exempt materials at the earliest availability.

The Washington Post is a news media organization, which will report on the requested records. The records will serve the public's understanding of police operations. As such, we request a waiver of any applicable fees.

Please provide the requested records as PDF attachments in a direct reply to this email. If alternate arrangements are necessary, please indicate as such by responding directly to this message.

We appreciate your prompt attention to this matter.
